Surrounding the second and third chakra is a Void which incorporates all the aspects of existence such as personality, the effects of the planets and gravitational forces on our being, as well as our behaviour patterns and our physical sustenance.

This is an area of outside influence. It represents the vacuum which separates our level of awareness from the truth while we are still in the unenlightened state. When the Kundalini fills this vacuum, our attention is led out of the ocean of illusion into the awareness of reality.

This is the centre of the Ten Primordial Masters who over time incarnated to lead mankind into the realm of truth and reality. When the Kundalini bridges this vacuum, one becomes the Master of the Self and all innate laws of nature are awakened in that person. Such a person becomes a very honest and able leader and has gravity in all their expressions.
